A Note About Our Handwriting Curriculum

Handwriting Without Tears has a developmental approach that is based on the most relevant research concerning how young children best learn how to write. While in the past, the school of thought was that young children needed big, chunky crayons to write with, you will see your children writing with little pencils and crayons to encourage the proper pincher grip. We also do activities that strengthen hand and finger strength. While we have been practicing lines, we will concentrate on writing letters later in the year.

Our Theme: Friends

Our Bible Story: Abraham and Sarah

Our Friendly Week

Learning each others names and becoming better friends is the focus of our week. We will be playing a "fishing for friends" game to help them grow socially. "Ff" is our fantastic tall stick letter of the week. We will work on our math skills when we play a friendly counting game and count frogs on lily pads.

Our Bible story will be about Abraham and God's promise of many children. The children will discover that God always keeps His promises!!

Scripture for the Month:

Genesis 28:15
"I am with you and will watch over you wherever you go."

Next Week:

Something that is circular
