

Dear Families,

I wish you all could have seen the joyful reception I received on Thursday when I came back.

I missed your kids so much and thought about them often.

Happy news for me as a momma, after it took us 13 hours to get to Denver, Kirby sealed her decision to stay home for college. We did make a 40 minute excursion on the way to hike to my uncle Jimmy's sculpture in the middle of Kansas. His name was James Kirby Johnson and he was my favorite uncle. Yes, Kirby is named after him.

Religion

One in Christ:

The Battle of Jericho

God rescued His people from the Canaanites. God gave His people a new land.

Oops. I put this story in last week's newsletter but it is actually for next week. This week the children learned about God's people being led across the Jordan river to the promised land.

Chapel Offering:

Pregnancy Help Center

Memory:

"For nothing will be impossible with God"

Luke 1:37

Reading Corner

Superkids:

We only have four Superkids left after this week. Well technically 10. Next week the kids will meet Tic, Tac, and Toc.

Spelling:

I can see this

We will continue with last week's spelling words.

Important Note

Next week Friday is our Thanksgiving Feast.

Today your kids learned to make egg noodles which were a tradition of my family handed down by my grandma.

She was the best cook. She learned to get very creative with her ingredients and didn't waste anything after raising my two oldest uncles during the great depression.

Show and Tell

Something that you are thankful for.

Math

We are continuing work on shapes. We will learn about flat shapes and solid shapes. We will also explore lines of symmetry.
